

For those who are familiar with Gilbert’s (1996) Behavioral Engineering Model, it is easy to see how valuable and fulfilling an IPT Graduate Assistantship really can be, which makes worthy performance worthwhile!

	DATA	RESOURCES	INCENTIVES
Environmental Supports	Not only are you given a wide variety of responsibilities, you are provided with excellent feedback and guidance.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• You are provided with an on-campus personal computer and workstation</li> <li>• You have unlimited access to distinguished Professors and Departmental Staff</li> <li>• Direct access to the best Library and Library resource – Sara Seeley</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Your tuition and fees are waived for the academic year</li> <li>• You are provided with student health care</li> <li>• Looks great on a resume and may open up other career development opportunities</li> <li>• You build invaluable, supporting relationships with other GAs, Faculty and Staff along with networking opportunities.</li> </ul>
	KNOWLEDGE & SKILL	CAPACITY	MOTIVES
Person’s Repertory of Behavior	There is ongoing development of IPT knowledge and skills not only for educational, but professional enrichment.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Whether you are just entering the program or have taken a number of classes, the GA position is applicable to everyone.</li> <li>• The position allows for flexible scheduling to accommodate for classes, your GA position, and daily life.</li> </ul>	Whether your motivation is learning or skill development, career enhancement, environment change, etc., the GA is an experience that everyone can gain from!